Abstract

In Indian knowledge system, there are two ways to learn and live life – what to do and what not to do. Both options have impact on us and on those who surround us. Camaraderie and solidarity in academic institutions build the ecosystem as our academic institutions are still human centric. In popular wisdom it is said that it takes years to build an organization and one minute of stupidity to destroy it. I propose to discuss how intangible is the only tangible and each one of us build and carry our shield with us. Ragging in modern term or in behaviour is that moment of stupidity that can kill the very essence of the culture. I propose to encourage the researchers in building positive campus ecosystem.
