AIT and Science City celebrate 'National Technology Day'

Ahmedabad Institute of Technology's (AIT), Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) recently celebrated National Technology Day in campus. A total of 62 students from CE, IT, EC, and Mechanical department along with five faculties attended the event. Students delivered a range of insightful presentations, delving into the intricacies and advancements within each domain. Similarly, National Technology Day was celebrated at the Gujarat Science City in collaboration with Gujcost (Gujarat Council on Science and Technology) and IPR (Institute for Plasma Research) with the theme 'Technologies for Viksit Bharat'. On this day, workshops on plasma technology, fusion technology, and plasma applications were organised in the auditorium, with teachers, students, and interested individuals participating enthusiastically. Additionally, around 30 exhibitions were held by IPR at the Science Dome, where volunteers informed visitors about the use of plasma in different fields and its specialties.
